FIERCE ATTACKS ON ENGLAND.

Barnum Having a Picnic With a Big Batch of Old American Jokes.

COMEDIAN TOOLE IN GREAT DEMAND.

Nine Doctors Diterly Pail to Kill the Baby King of Spain.

Portuguese newspapers are trying to fan the embers of hate of the English into a fierce fire once more. Foreign sympathy, though, that was promised, is assuming no tangible shape. Barnum is having lots of fun retailing old American jokes to the British public. Nine doctors have failed to kill the young King of Spain.

INT CABLE TO THE DISPATCEA

LONDON, February 1 .- [Copyright.]-The Anglo-Portuguese dispute is at a standstill, Salisbury having declined all discussion on the general question until he shall have carried out their promised evacuation of the Shire Highlands and the Upper Zambeai districts. In Portugal the newspapers ner doing their best to fan the flame of anti-English hatred, and with some amount of success. The latest proposal is for a national content of the proposal is for a national content of the proposal is lost and the proposal is lost a national content of the proposal conte compact pledging every man not to defile himself by shaking an Englishman's hand, and every Portuguese woman not to dis-honorherself by listening to the addresses of an English lover. Here is a specimen from the Lisbon newspapers:

Barnum worked off many chestnuts of early America upon those Britishers, and they enjoyed the oldest best. In the inter-vals of story telling Mrs. Shaw whistled, the Lisbon newspapers:

It is our first duty to our children to teach them to hate the accursed spawn of Norman and Saxon pirates, and to grow up to avenge the affront given to their fathers. Villains! Villains, all! And if the squadron of these wretches dare enter our Tagus to affront us for being poor in warships and to threaten us with their guns let the people, without hesita tion, make prisoners the whole English colony, sparing neither women nor children, and tell the Admiral that if one bombshell falls in Lisbon, every one of these hostages will be put to death without an hour's delay. The wretches may then do their worst-Lisbon will not have died without wreaking vengeance.

Patriots are continually reminded that no judge nor jury would convict them for any offense committed against an Englishman. Nevertheless not a single British throat has yet been cut, and there has been scarcely a single instance of actual mistreatment. Meanwhile the foreign sympathy and assistance of which the Lisbon papers confidently assured the people has assumed no tangible England's side, and the American evolutionary squadron, which Portugal believed might have protected the Tagus against British war vessels, has gone to Toulon in-

MOURNING POR THEIR SON.

Impressive Celebration of the Anniversary of Prince Rudolph's Death. IBT CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.I

LONDON, February 1.-The Emperor and Empress of Austria have been in mourning this week, and both observed Thursday, the first anniversary of their son Rudolph's suicide, as sacred. The hunting chateau at Meyerling, in which the tragedy took place, has been transformed into a monastery, and the wing in which Rudolph died is now a the altar of which stands where the Prince's bed once stood. The Emperor went alone, at 8 o'clock in the morning, to the Capuchin Church in Vienna, where the body lies, and descended into when he rose he was perfectly calm, and no longer wept. ## IN SPITE OF NINE DOCTORS

The Young Spanish King's Recovery is Now Thought Assured.

IBY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH. London, February 1.—The Spaniards have not yet ceased celebrating King Allonso's recovery, which, in view of the fact that nine doctors were in attendance, they have no doubt was miraculous. Whenever the Queen Regent appears in public, she is frantically cheered as the mother-nurse who saved the King, and during the week a great many Te Deums have been sung throughout the kingdom. Yesterday 3,000 grandess filed through the throne room before the Queen Regent to prove their loyality, and addresses were presented trom the Senate, Congress and other public bodies.

BARNUM IN CLOVER. The American Showman Finds a Good

Pince to Work Off a Lot of Chestnuts-Jokes Hard to Comprehend. BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH. LONDON, February 1 .- Phineas Taylor Barnum, scated upon a dais in a Japanes oom of the Earl of Aberdeen's residence, in

Grosvenor square, and affably relating certain of the incidents of his life, was the spectacle that brought a hundred or two aristocrats together on Thursday after-noon. It is due to the great noon. It is due to the great Barnum to say that he seemed quite himself although there were present, aside from the Earl and his Countess, Sir Francis and Lady Seymour, Lady Wolseley, Lady Tweedmouth, Lady Foley, Sir John Fouler, Sir Pryce Prycejones, two members of Parliament, Leopold De Rothschild and any number of other swells. Barnum took them all into his confidence. He told them which one of his relatives was a butcher, which one a shoemaker, and which butcher, which one a shoemaker, and which one a stage driver in the most genial style. It was a goodly sight to see Britain's nobility struggle with the American joke. Barnum told them about his first adventure in the show business when he started out to find a dog with two tails that a neighbor had seen in an adjacent village only to find have received proof that the Portuguese that the dog the neighbor described had been seen coming out of a tanyard, and one of the said tails, which had originally belonged to a cow, was in his month. There was blank silence and much consternation on > ond story was finished they were laughing gleefully at the first one, Shortis, the American banjoist, operated upon that instrument, and in the end every-body was delighted and Barnum greater than ever. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone attended the great moral show on Thursday evening, and were highly entertained there-with. Barcum tried to get Gladstone to promise to come to the World's Fair in 1892, but the Grand Old Man refused to commit himself to the project.

A pocket full of money amounts to little after health is gone. To enjoy life, a good appetite, sound direction and clastic limbs, take Tutt's Pills. Then, if you are poor, you will be happy; if rich, you can enjoy your money. They dissel low spirits, and give buoyancy to mind and body. Recommendation.

W. I. Blair, Danville, Va., says: "I have long suffered from torpor of the liver and dyspepsia, and have tried almost everything, but never derived half the benefit that I have had from Tutt's Pills. I recommend them to all that are afflicted with dyspepsia and sick head-ache."

Tutt's Liver Pills GIVE GOOD DIGESTION.
